| No. | Location clue                                                     | Vegetable, fruit or flower name? |
|-----|-------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 1   | A white majestic bird with a long neck                            |                                  |
| 2   | Could also be called a rabbit and the dogs                        |                                  |
| 3   | Where residents grow their own by a hill                          |                                  |
| 4   | The centre of Claygate, it rose from the ashes                    |                                  |
| 5   | A road apparently named after Mr Sim and Mr Mil                   |                                  |
| 6   | The smallest pub in Claygate and maybe the UK!                    |                                  |
| 7   | What are Tom and Jerry?                                           |                                  |
| 8   | Here Hannah and Milo are full of rainbow smiles                   |                                  |
| 9   | A road - anagram of Noitats Road - listen for the trains          |                                  |
| 10  | A mythical creature with eagle wings and a lion's body            |                                  |
| 11  | A large stone building with towers and a cross                    |                                  |
| 12  | This road leads you to the Recreation Ground                      |                                  |
| 13  | The classes here are all named after trees                        |                                  |
| 14  | Capital of Claygate refreshments                                  |                                  |
| 15  | Win the race to buy some wood!                                    |                                  |
| 16  | This road is a circular route as name suggests                    |                                  |
| 17  | A space for teenagers, also shares a name with a French president |                                  |
| 18  | Get a coffee here and you could end up in London or Guildford     |                                  |
| 19  | A coaching inn that's been in Claygate since 1780                 |                                  |
| 20  | A lane named after a tree. You can hop on a K3 here too!          |                                  |
| 21  | A safe space for teenagers to meet near the Doctors               |                                  |
| 22  | The classes here are all named after authors                      |                                  |
| 23  | This road has it's own bus stop and it's half fruit               |                                  |
| 24  | A perfect place to find a great vintage                           |                                  |
